Graybar Electric Co., Inc., 17 T.C. 92 (1951)

The court will examine the substance of a transaction rather than merely the labels the parties attach to it, particularly when determining whether payments are deductible as compensation for services in tax cases.

Summary

Graybar Electric sought to deduct certain

© 2025 SCOTUSreports.com. All rights reserved.